GATT Hits Bad Weather

TORONTO (CP)—Trade Minister Sharp said today that efforts to initiate another round of major tariff cuts under the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade are running into heavy weather.

He made the statement in a speech to the National Executive Council and the Ontario division of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association on the need for Canada to improve its world trade position by exporting more manufactured goods.

The minister said the growing markets in the world today lie in the area of manufactured goods, not in industrial materials and food.

"This suggests that the only lasting solution to our payments gap is to extend our production base and in particular to increase our proficiency in the area of secondary manufacturing."

The minister said it would be a mistake to try to solve the basic imbalance in Canadian trade by negative, restrictive measures. The emphasis must be on expansion and on becoming more efficient.

...VIEWS DIFFER

"That is why we have been supporting so strongly the efforts that are being made to initiate another round of major tariff cuts under the auspices of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade," he said.

"These efforts are running into heavy weather. Important differences of view exist, particularly between the United States and the European Economic Community as to the desirability of the plan for cutting tariffs. As far as Canada's negotiating position is concerned, it has been made clear and I believe it has been accepted by our major trading partners."

Mr. Sharp said Canada approaches the round of tariff talks in a positive way.

Crisis In Denmark Averted By Premier

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—Socialist Premier Jens Otto Krag has bowed to demands from liberals in his coalition government and agreed to repeal a temporary act barring further increases in prices and profits. The premier's decision Thursday night averted a government crisis that could have resulted in an early election.

Soviet Cosmonaut Calls For Global Space Effort

PAVEL POPOVICH, Soviet cosmonaut, said today in Vancouver at a community meeting that "before scientists can begin a convalescent vacation over Moscow, they must first visit the world."

Popovich, who flew the first Soviet satellite, said he had a "strong feeling" about the behavior that results from it. He said he was "strongly" in favor of throwing a strong light on the situation and raising social and public action.

Major Grant McEwan of Calgary said in his speech that he was "strongly" in favor of the Soviet cosmonaut's call for a global space effort.

He said the Soviet cosmonaut's call for a global space effort was "a very important step" in the development of space exploration.

Opposition leader Robert Stanbury said Thursday the new opposition in the B.C. legislature is not strong enough to do the job. He said the government will become more arrogant and the opposition will become more powerful.

Vancouver police have stepped up a hunt for the car of a man who was shot in the chest last week. The man was shot in the chest last week. The man was shot in the chest last week.

Kapuskasing Men "Relieved" Now That All 20 Acquitted

COCHRANE, Ont. (CP)—Paul Coulombe, manager of a settlers' cooperative and one of 20 men cleared Wednesday by an Ontario Supreme Court grand jury on three counts of non-capital murder and rioting charges, said after the hearing "everybody is relieved."

All 20 had been charged with non-capital murder in the shooting deaths of three striking union lumberworkers at Heesler Subdivision 37 miles west of Kapuskasing, during a violent strike against a Kapuskasing lumber firm last winter.

The lumber workers shot when a small army of striking bush workers raided a camp being maintained by independent logging cutters. The lumberworkers objected to cutting wood for the lumber firm in defiance of the strikers' boycott.

FACES LITENR CHARGE

Mr. Coulombe, manager of the Val Rita cooperative near Kapuskasing, who led the work party of settlers the night of the raid, was charged with non-capital murder in a joint charge of possessing offensive weapons. The jury returned no bill.

Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, has begun a convalescent vacation in a luxurious seaside villa near Athens, Greece, after a long flight from New York during which she asked for oxygen. A spokesman for the wife of the U.S. president said she was given oxygen while her Boeing 707 jet was flying between Rome and Athens. She was not air sick, the spokesman explained, simply tired from the long journey.

Labour Minister MacEachen told the Commons Thursday the Canadian government will definitely proceed with its marine union trusteeship measure unless a "solid, effective alternative" is worked out by United States and Canadian labor leaders.

Nazi's Grave Said Found

BONN (Reuters)—Heinrich Mueller, the Nazi Gestapo chief believed to have been responsible for the mass murder of Jews, is buried in East Berlin's old Jewish cemetery, a grave-digger said in a newspaper interview today.

West Berlin scientists decided this week that remains found in Mueller's official grave belonged to three separate skeletons, but were unable to prove if any of the bones were Mueller's.

Walter Leiders, a retired 51-year-old gravedigger, told the mass grave was found in the Hamburg cemetery. "Gestapo Chief Heinrich Mueller is dead. I buried him myself. He is lying in a mass grave at the old Jewish cemetery in East Berlin, in the Hamburg Strasse in East Berlin."

"In the first weeks in Berlin after the war, I buried 1,200 dead from the ruins between the (Nazi) air ministry and the Reich chancellery."

"Among them was only one general in SS uniform—Heinrich Mueller. His name was in his identity card. The photograph agreed with the face of the dead man, which was still recognizable. The uniform fitted Mueller was in the tank."

"We registered every corpse. The documents are with the central district registrar in East Berlin."

Gambia Gains Independence

BATHURST (Reuters)—Gambia, Britain's oldest and last remaining colony in western Africa, achieved full internal self-government today.

Prime Minister David Jawara pledged in a champagne toast at a club in this capital that Gambia would work for full independence as soon as realistically possible.

The decision to give internal self-government to the 4,600-square-mile colony and protectorate was reached when Jawara visited London at the end of August.

SHIP RAMS DOCK

NANAIMO (CP)—Workmen are making temporary repairs to the ore loading dock at Texada Island rammed earlier this week by the Japanese freighter Minagawa Maru. The freighter tore out part of the dock and damaged one of the loading towers. Texada manager Charlie Gurne said the accident would not interrupt the shipping schedule.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Seventy-two resolutions will be discussed by the B.C. Government Employees' Association when it holds a two-day convention in suburban Burnaby, starting Friday. Three locals are expected to submit resolutions urging a step up in demands for full bargaining rights for its 9,000 members.

FLEMING RETIRES

VANCOUVER (CP)—W. G. "Doc" Fleming has retired as government agent here after 28 years service with the provincial government. He began his civil service career in Revelstoke in 1937. Nuclear Pact Under Fire For First Time In House

OTTAWA (CP)—The government's 449-955 to pay its October and moon party. The committee's report's Aug. 16 agreement with November bills. The interim meeting is scheduled for clear warheads for Canadian full spending budget hasn't yet forces has come under its first been approved.

The government has said the money is urgently needed to cover cheques which must go out next week, and the Senate is standing by today to deal with the supply bill.

However, Gilles G. Gagnon, House leader of Real Caouette's Ralliement des Creditaires, held up Commons passage of the money vote. He said the 13-member group will prolong debate on the measure until the Commons privileges committee decides whether to recognize the Creditaires—a break-away Social Credit faction—as a Commons.

Mr. Martin said that since U.S. forces on Canadian bases will retain custody of the warheads, Canada is not "joining the nuclear club." Mr. Douglas said this was "thoroughgoing."

MUST PAY BILLS

The debate developed as the Commons considered a government request for a vote of $747.

Atlas Explodes Before Launch

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP)—An Atlas F intercontinental ballistic missile—most advanced of the Atlas series—exploded in flames Thursday night seconds before its scheduled launch at Vandenberg Air Force Base, 50 miles northwest of here.

There was no immediate statement from air force officials on the cause of the explosion. No injuries were reported.

Witnesses said the 82½-foot-tall missile exploded just as the rocket booster ignited, about one minute after it was raised from its 114-foot-deep underground silo.

Supreme Court Upholds Validity of Bill 42

The past few days have seen two major disputes in provincial affairs ended. The first was the B.C. Electric settlement which came on Friday and the second was the ruling of the Supreme Court of Canada upholding the validity of Bill 42, the B.C. law against unions using union dues for political purposes. The judgment was handed down on Tuesday, the day following the election.

The court's majority ruling said that the B.C. legislation does nothing more than provide that union dues paid as a condition of membership in a union cannot be expended for a political object which may not command the support of a particular member of the union.

The judgment said that the individual has been brought into association with trade unions by statutory requirement and the legislature protected his civil rights by providing that he cannot be compelled to assist in the financial promotion of political causes with which he disagrees. Such legislation is, in both substance and spirit, legislation in respect of civil rights in the province.

The majority judgment also said that a union certified as a bargaining agent is a legal entity.

The union had argued that its membership fees was its own property and as a voluntary association it was entitled to disburse them in a manner decided by a majority of the membership. The judgment said this argument was not valid because a trade union was not a purely voluntary association, as by law the union has power to require membership in it and consequent payment of the right to be employed in a particular employment group.

The judgment pointed out that the legislation did not prevent an individual engaging in any form of political activity he might desire. Nor does it prevent a union engaging in political activities. It does not prevent a union from soliciting funds for political purposes from its members. It does, however, prevent the use of funds which are obtained in particular ways such as membership fees from being used for political purposes.

While there is some suggestion that the union may apply for a refund, there can be no appeal as the Supreme Court of Canada is the highest court in the land. The validity of Bill 42 would seem to be established.

Boat Owner Instruction

Every boat owner should be interested in the instruction courses which will be available through the local branch of the Canadian Power Squadrons this winter. Every boat owner should be interested because the courses are designed to provide the knowledge without which no person can be a competent boat operator.

Everyone takes for granted the need for a driver's test before one can drive a car. Equally important is the need for competency in the driving of a boat. The power squadron's instructional courses are in fact the water counterpart of the highway driving test.

The purpose of the courses is to promote safety, courtesy and good fellowship afloat through a series of basic and advanced training courses. The courses are open to all who drive a boat, regardless of whether or not the person belongs to a club of any type.

The courses provide a working knowledge of the things any boat driver needs to know when he ventures forth on the water. It includes such things as the rules of the road, government boating regulations, essential safety equipment and procedures. The course teaches the elements of seamanship; how to handle your boat; how to read charts and use a compass; how to navigate safely in unfamiliar waters and under adverse weather conditions. It teaches the right way to anchor and dock; how to tie knots; how to interpret buoys and lights. It teaches marine customs, boating terms, flag etiquette and much other useful information.

The Canadian Power Squadron is a voluntary organization whose officers and instructors work entirely without remuneration. It enjoys the regard and cooperation of the department of transport, harbor boards, RCMP and the search and rescue authorities across the country. In other words it is no fly-by-night organization with a gimmick.

Like anything else one gets out of the courses just what one puts into them. However, it is certain that the successful completion of the courses will result in greater competence, greater self-confidence and greater pleasure in handling one's boat. There is the added incentive, too, that the knowledge one obtains may one day stand one in good stead, saving one's own or some other person's life.

Passing a driver's test does not necessarily mean that one is automatically a good automobile driver. Passing the power Squadron test does not necessarily mean that one becomes a competent boat driver. There is the human element to be considered. But there are many boat owners on Okanagan Lake who are well intentioned and want to do the right thing but do the wrong thing simply through ignorance. It is no secret that many of the boat owners on Okanagan Lake are not well informed and are actual moving hazards on the lake. The power squadron courses give these people, both men and women, an opportunity to correct this by providing the information.

Any person in charge of a boat cannot be too well informed. It is to be hoped that the power squadron's winter classes will be booked solid this winter. If so, the danger on the lake will be decreased materially.

Mr. K Now at Peak of Power But Getting Short on Luck

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev, who along in his 70th year, made himself today probably at the peak of the power and at the bottom of his luck.

Two major catastrophes in one year would make the end of a head of government in many another country.

He has seen the shattered Communist camp break in two, with the biggest population on the other side.

He is faced with perhaps the worst crop year in the Soviet Union since the Second World War. Despite growing promises that things were getting better and the outlook was secure, Soviet leaders knew today how bad their wheat crop was. Khrushchev told them in a speech broadcast five days after it was delivered.

For the first time, he told his people he had to buy 6,800,000 tons of wheat from Canada and another 1,600,000 tons from Australia. He didn't say how much it had cost in that Soviet commodity even more scarce than wheat—gold and dollars. But about it was calculated at more than $50,000,000 and probably nearer $70,000,000.

RUSSIA DUMPS GOLD

Tons of Soviet gold have been dumped on the Western market to raise the money. Those details were not published here.

That the two crises have caused much head-scratching among the Soviet people can be estimated from the amount of press effort expended to defend the government's position.

been decided upon—a massive increase in fertilization production and more money spent on irrigation. To Soviet citizens long waiting for more money to be spent on a better life, the revelation of a cruel crop shortage seemed as a shock.

In addition to the grain that has to be bought, the premier said another 3,000,000 tons of wheat must be bought. A price boost was spent building fertilizer plants

OTTAWA REPORT

Harmonic Contrast All Done In Oils

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

The most revealing feature of the Ottawa report of the Commission on the oil industry is the contrast between the two sides of the coin. On the one hand, the oil industry is a powerful force in the economy, and on the other hand, it is a source of environmental concern.

Along the Ottawa River, the oil industry is a powerful force in the economy, and on the other hand, it is a source of environmental concern.

OVERHAUL NEEDED
YORKTON (CP) — Dr. Charles Lightbody of Regina College said here Thursday a royal commission on Saskatchewan's education system is needed to overhaul the system. Dr. Lightbody resigned from the University of Saskatchewan staff last summer because, he claimed, there was a lack of academic freedom on the Regina campus. He said there was a need for greater influence from teachers and less from administrators and politicians.

TWO DECADES AFTER RAID

Dieppe "Battle" Still On

LONDON (CP) — Two decades after the event, British newspapers fired forth this week with the claim that Hitler knew about the Dieppe raid before it ever took place.

In the most intriguing post-mortem yet on one of the most discussed battles in Canadian military history, it is even suggested that the Germans were tipped off to the coastal clash by an advertisement appearing in London newspapers dated Aug. 13, 1942.

That was six days before the Canadian-led dawn assault on the French coast. The result was tragedy. Casualties among the nearly 5,000 Canadians spearheading the attack force numbered 3,363.

Ever since, arguments have raged as to whether the ill-fated assault was a mistake or a necessary prelude to the Allied invasion that came two years later.

This week Dieppe came back into the news as a young British historian, David Irving, was quoted in The Evening Standard as saying he had uncovered "startling new evidence" that the Germans knew exactly when the raid was coming.

Educationalists Look At Security And Don't Like What They See

EDMONTON (CP) — Representatives from 41 Canadian universities and colleges took a careful look at federal security procedures Thursday, and they didn't like what they saw.

DEFEAT RESOLUTION
A resolution calling for professors to tell their students whether they would divulge information in student political activity or opinions was hotly debated before being defeated.

The resolution was drafted by Wes Craig of the University of Alberta who said: "If the student feels his ideas are going to be passed on to the RCMP, he won't express them. The whole process of academic freedom relies on freedom to express ideas."

The universities of Victoria, Manitoba and British Columbia were the most outspoken opponents of the resolution.

A Manitoba spokesman said he objected because the resolution "implies that academic freedom is somehow the private property" of universities.

A resolution was passed calling for NFCUS members "to inform their faculty organizations that professors are invited to state to their students whether or not they will divulge information to Canadian security organizations on the political activities or opinions of their students."

Earlier the committee voted to sponsor a project for the Montreal world's fair in 1967—but couldn't decide what it matters which could at any time should be.

The beachcomber had six button holes—the number of days to the raid.

And the letters "Cana"—presumably an abbreviation for Canada—could be seen in the folds.

RAISED A FLAP
The Daily Sketch quoted an official who worked in the psychological warfare executive as saying the advertisement raised a "terrible flap" at the time and was handled at the "very top," but nothing more was heard.

The Evening Standard article quoting historian Irving said the Germans knew so much about Dieppe that they staged a simulated raid Aug. 13, 1942, four days before the real thing. "It was the deadliest subgame in history," the paper said.

Weeks before the raid, the paper said, Hitler sent a top secret signal saying it was most urgent that the Dieppe-La Havre area should be considered as in particular danger of invasion.

Has Anyone Seen A Glaucous Gull

VERNON (Staff) — The Vernon Fish and Game Club are interested in knowing whether anyone in this area has ever sighted a gull of the black-winged species or nests of the black-winged species.

The gull is the only gull nesting in salt water localities in British Columbia. Colonies vary from 2,000 pairs down to several on nesting islets ranging from barren rocks but a few feet above high water, to islands a couple of miles long.

On July 27 of this year, seven Western Bird Grouping Association members banded 644 young, black-winged gulls each with a United States Fish and Wildlife Service band on the right leg. A total of 636 of these birds each carry, in addition, two black poultry rings on the left leg.

According to the association, it is expected this color-banding scheme will also help to make the birds' movements more obvious to other observers in other areas, including the interior.

"It is hoped it will serve to broaden this knowledge further as the birds disperse from their natal colony, and if some success with observations is achieved, to extend the program to other nesting colonies in 1964."

Waterfowl hunters or others in this particular area are invited to co-operate by reporting sightings of these gulls to: The Canadian Wildlife Service, 6660 N.W. Marine Drive, Vancouver.

There's A Scientific Method Of Figuring Out Heat Needs

CENTRAL HEATING is now widely used. The most common form, because it's costless for others to benefit, is a free-rider problem. In the basement-powered electrically driven furnace, the radiator in a neighbor's house is part of the same system where the air was cooled in the first place. The radiator in the neighbor's house is perfect otherwise, a needed part of a neighborhood's system. Having the radiator's neighbor's radiator is a free-rider problem.

HOME TIPS

POCKED STUCCO SURFACE
QUESTION I am repairing several places in the walls under our front porch that have cracked badly and broken out. Our house is stucco. How can I get the pocked surface of these repairs to match the rest of the house?

ANSWER: In general, stucco is applied in much the same manner as plaster, a plastering trowel and hawk are necessary, as well as specific tools for the particular fixture finish you desire. Write to the Portland Cement Association, 33 W. Grand Ave., Chicago 10, Ill., for detailed instructions.

NAILS NOT HOLDING

QUESTION: A few years ago I covered part of our house with asbestos shingle siding. The nails are not holding and have been falling out. How can this be remedied?

ANSWER: Replace the nails as they come out with nails at least $\frac{1}{2}$ inch longer, using spiral or serrated ringed nails for better holding. If you nailed the shingles over insulating sheathing board, without using nailing strips, all nails will eventually fall out. To have nails hold in insulating sheathing without nailing strips, use self-clenching nails.

BROKEN WROUGHT IRON
QUESTION: Is there any way to repair broken wrought iron? I have a wrought iron candle holder for several candles. In moving an arm holding a candle broke off.

ANSWER Several types of cement for mending broken metal are now widely available at variety, hardware, and home-wares dealers. Follow label directions carefully, especially as to preparation of broken surfaces. I have found that one of the best adhesives is putty, or steel in plastic form which hardens with the strength of steel.

Painting Damp Basement Needs Careful Approach

QUESTION: What type of part is this and what is its function as related to the floor cover in the vehicle? Is it a floor plate or a floor plate support?
ANSWER: It is the same one first and then it is the floor plate support. It is a floor plate support and it is a floor plate support.

ANNEX: The above were provided preparations for the following exhibits:

grit floor. The grit floor was made by spreading a 1/2" layer of grit over the concrete floor. The grit was made by grinding the concrete floor with a grinder. The grit was made by grinding the concrete floor with a grinder. The grit was made by grinding the concrete floor with a grinder.

RECONDITIONING TAR ROOF

QUESTION We have a separate brick garage with a flat tarred roof. How often does the roof require re-roofing?

ANSWER: When the tar is dry and shows signs of brittle ness, it should have another coat. It can either be made up or a cold asphalt compound, a coating of gravel on top, or either will greatly help protect against the hot direct rays of the sun in summer and against wear, too.

TAX ON CONCRETE

QUESTION: What will result from a possible delivery?

ANSWER: Make a thick paste of fuller's earth or other adsorbing powder and aerosol.

KELOWNA DAILY COURIER, FRI., OCT. 4, 1903 PAGE 1

Being very careful of the fire hazard. Then to avoid spreading the wax, apply a thick layer of the paste covering more than the stained area. As much of the tar on the surface as possible is removed. Before applying the paste, remove as much of the tar on the surface as possible by using a piece of wood or dull steel or a knife to scrape

'64 BUICK

Beautiful!... The pedestal and spotlight are a bit stagey, I admit. But there is something beautiful about a tall, slender, cool glass like that. Full of Labatt's Beer! The beer is the most important factor, I think. I'm a first choice beer of so many people. Don't stand there looking at it. Get some! It's beautiful beer.

Be your own best friend . . .

A sportsman with a loaded shotgun or rifle in his hands has got to be his own best friend. He must leave nothing to chance. Never, not for an instant, can he allow anything to endanger the safety of himself or his fellow hunters.

Only when the day's shooting is done, only when the gun is empty and back in the rack . . . only then is it time to enjoy the pleasures of social relaxation.

For many years The House of Seagram has published messages advocating Moderation in all things, including the use of whisky. At this time, in the interest of safer hunting we say once again:

"Drinking and Hunting Do Not Mix."
